Response of the Prime Minister to a question of the Honorable Maurice Lesage

55 -

Honourable Members are aware that a few islands of Chagos Archipelago were handed over in 1965 to the British Government who then established what is now known as the British Indian Ocean Territory.

People who were working there have since that time been coming back to Mauritius on the expiry of their contract. Some of them have been able to find suitable employment in Mauritius or Agalega; others, who are over 60 are drawing old age pension and those who have not been able to find employment are assisted by the Public Assistance Department.

A census of these workers was carried out recently and a communique has been published inviting those who have not yet registered or have changed their addresses to notify the Ministry of Labour and Social Security of their whereabouts.

On the statement published in the press regarding the imprisonment of 116 workers expelled from Mego, I am advised that, with the reduction of activities in that Island, the workers were given the option of working in Agalega, Peros Banhos or Salomon Island or to return to Mauritius. 8 employees with their families making a total of 14 persons, opted to come back to Mauritius whilst the rest agreed to work in Agalega, Peros Banhos or Salomon Island. Those who had opted for work in those islands were paid a disturbance allowance of Rs.500. The other 8 employees and their families were transferred to Seychelles on the 30th September and are returning to Mauritius. They will be paid all monies due to them under their contracts by Messrs. Regers and Go. who are the representatives of the employees. Due to lack of other suitable accomposation they were, during their stay in Seychelles, housed in an umused modern prison building completely separated from the main prison building, and were supplied with cooked food.

Ever since the question of the rehabilitation of persons from the Chagos archipelago was raised, I have constantly been assured by the British Government of their readiness to cooperate in resettling all Mauritians evacuated from that area. Possible resettlement plans are now under
